UM ECONOMICS PROFESSOR TO LECTURE ON REGIONAL ECONOMY

MISSOULA--

University of Montana economics Professor Richard Barrett will give a lecture at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 4, on the first floor of the Milwaukee Station, located at 250 Station Drive.

The lecture is titled "Casinos and Wages: Reservation Gambling and Rural Labor Markets in the Mountain West." It is sponsored by the Carroll and Nancy Fields O'Connor Center for the Rocky Mountain West as part of a faculty fellowship lecture series. The event is free and open to the public.

Barrett specializes in labor and environmental economics, macroeconomics and international trade. He has traveled as a Fulbright lecturer and a Peace Corps volunteer. His latest book is called "Post Cowboy Economics: Pay and Prosperity in the New American West." Barrett also is a 2001 recipient of an O'Connor Center Research Fellowship.

The Center for the Rocky Mountain West is a regional studies and public policy center at UM. The center gathers scholars, public policy experts and students to study and help shape the future of the region. It offers resources such as courses, lectures, scholarships, conferences and publications.
